Planning for 2024?

...we can help

LET'S TALK!

We're planning an exciting product development roadmap for 2024 and we want to make sure we build more of what you need.

HAVE YOUR SAY!

- What are learners asking for?
- What formats are you exploring?
- How can we help you promote these opportunities?
- How will you measure success?

SKILLFLUENCE IN ACTION

Skillfluence designs and delivers training that equips researchers with the skills, tools and confidence needed to create maximum socio-economic value from their research. We focus on communication, commercialisation and collaboration skills, which we've identified to be most directly linked to delivering increased levels of innovation, knowledge exchange and impact. We work with university managers and leadership teams to deliver outcome-focused training and skills development programmes for researchers, PhD students and university staff.
