Dear Professor Buckingham

I, Professor Iain Gillespie, on behalf of the University of Dundee, confirm our commitment to the revised Concordat to Support the Career Development of Researchers.

The University of Dundee fully support the principles of the revised Concordat to Support the Career Development of Researchers and we intend to uphold our obligations and responsibilities as a signatory.

The University of Dundee has a rich research community, eclectic in nature and passionate in their fields. Our research staff are key members of the wider research community, as a research-intensive University. The University now make this commitment to ensure we champion them, with not only their professional but also their personal development.

The University of Dundee has held the HR Excellence in Research award since 2011 and has gone from strength to strength in supporting research staff, innovating new ways to support our research community. We believe, by becoming a signatory of the revised Concordat to Support the Career Development of Researchers, the University of Dundee will further our vision to enable our people to flourish, enhancing the support the University provide research staff.

Yours sincerely

Professor Iain Gillespie
